its installed you can try reinstalling that driver Mmvc: but there is an alternative if that's not sufficient I was wondering if its a software problem. I see nacc. Mmvc: a software problem? Its like a hw problem. I can see the wifi card in the terminal but I cant connect. I cant connect even in the software. I dont know what the problem is. Mmvc: a "software" problem, it's either a driver or the firmware
Mmvc: can you pastebin the output of `dmesg`? okay nacc . is there any reason why the file menu on the left of my windows would only allow me to open one.exe file in wine? xerons: do you mean right-click -> open with? nacc: right click, file, properties, check "open with" it should open several applications xerons: can you pastebin what is in that list? nacc: xerons: and what is the output of `x-terminal-emulator --version`? xerons: ok, looks like gnome-terminal is some kind of emulation of x-terminal-emulator xerons: so you could try `wine --version`, and see if it spits out the gnome-terminal version nacc: wine: /home/xeron/wine is not owned by you 82157476af
